COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS OFFICE

The Selectmen have approved a fee schedule for sewer users based on cost of installation and operational expenses of the sewer system. The fees will be based upon water use with the minimum use of 8,000 cu. ft. per year costing $30.40. Above the 8,000 cu. ft. it will be $11.30 for each additional 1,000 cu. ft.

There has been a man working part-time collecting dog licenses for us. He has located many animals which have not been taxed for several years. He also has been asked to go to Albany and Mason to assist the county in collecting their delinquent dog taxes.

The Highway Dept. is tarring as much as the weather permits. Because of a breakdown of a piece of equipment they could not do the work during the good weather we have had.

The rodder to clean the sewer lines was delivered this week. The cost of this will be incorporated into the new system making us eligible for financial assistance from state and federal funds.

"BUSINESS WEEK" FIGURES SHOW RISE IN MAINE PERSONAL INCOME

Maine personal income continues to rise at a rate faster than that of New England as a whole according to the latest figures published by Business Week.

Maine personal income was 12.2 per cent higher in May compared to the same month a year ago and for the first five months of 1973 was 11.3 per cent higher than for the same period in 1972. For the six New England states personal income was 10.3 per cent higher in May 1973 than in May 1972, and for the first five months of 1973 was 10.7 per cent higher than for the corresponding a year ago.

Nationwide personal income for May was 11.6 per cent higher in May 1973 than in May 1972 and 11.9 per cent higher for the first five months of 1973 than for the first five months of 1972.

Business Week noted that the rate of growth in personal income has been slowing down and labeled it as "yet another sign that the broad expansion of the economy over the past year is cooling down."

REGULAR SESSION OF S. A. D. 44 BOARD HELD AT ANDOVER

A regular meeting of the board of directors of S. A. D. 44 was held at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week.

An orientation picnic is planned for all staff members and directors of S. A. D. 44, to be scheduled on some evening during the first week of school. It was the unanimous vote of the directors that any expense would be borne by the district.

Basil E. Kinney, superintendent, reported that federal funding for the teacher's aides employed under the Emergency Employment Act would be reduced by 10% each month starting in September.

Mr. Kinney also reported a delay in delivery of the four new busses and one van. Originally scheduled for delivery before Sept. 1, the units are not expected before Jan. 1, 1974. Reportedly the cause of the delay is a two month shut-down of the chassis manufacturers assembly line due to model changeovers.

It was reported to the directors that 37 students and six adults participated in the Summer Driver Education program at Telstar.

The superintendent reported that revised insurance values of district property reflect a 5% increase, necessitated by increased replacement costs.

The board approved an intramural program for the 1973-74 year at Telstar Regional High School. The program will encompass grades 7 through 12, and is to provide one female and one male instructor during each of the three seasons (fall, winter, and spring). Under the approved program, the present coaching staff of each varsity sport may provide interscholastic competition for grade 7 and 8 students, subject to budget and coaching staff limits to be exact for each varsity sport.

The directors approved the continuation of the experimental smoking area at Telstar for the 1973-74 school year.

The board confirmed the employment of the following teacher aides for the 1973-74 school year: Nancy Cummings, Ethel Bibbee School; Margaret Buck, Crescent Park School; Linda Gilbert, R. C. Foster School.

Also confirmed were the employment of Paul Vincent as teacher of grade six at Woodstock Elementary School, and Bruce Burkland as teacher of math and English at Telstar.

Mr. Vincent has had eight years of teaching experience in the Rumbold schools. Mr. Burkland is a 1972 graduate of the U. of M. Farmington, and has taught one year at Telstar.

NEW LAW STOPS CHARGING OF FEES AT NATIONAL FOREST SITES

The White Mountain National Forest in New Hampshire and Maine will no longer be charging for use of recreational facilities. The new Golden Eagle Passport Program (PL-93-81), an amendment to the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, was recently signed by President Nixon. The new program stops the charging for federal recreation facilities unless they offer the camper the luxury facilities not found on most Forest Service areas.

Fees will no longer be charged at Federal campgrounds and swimming areas that do not have all the following facilities: flush rest rooms, showers, access and circulatory roads, sanitary disposal systems, visitor protection patrol, designated tent and trailer spaces, refuse containers, and potable water.

Paul Weingart, Forest Supervisor, explained the effect of the law on the White Mountain National Forest. "Since there are no campgrounds or swimming areas on this National Forest that offer the combination of flush rest rooms, showers, and sanitary disposal systems, we will not be charging for the use of our facilities. We will continue to offer well-maintained, clean recreation areas with the very basic facilities we stopped charging at all recreation areas as of Aug. 8."

Before the new law went into effect, there were 21 campgrounds and swimming sites on the White Mountain National Forest that charged fees for overnight camping and swimming. During the 1972 summer season, the Forest collected $139,928.35 from the recreation areas.

The Golden Eagle and Golden Age Passports will remain valid at all Federal recreation areas that continue to charge entrance and user fees.

SOUTH PARIS OFFICE OF F.H.A. LEADS STATE IN LOAN VOLUME

The Farmers Home Administration at South Paris, Maine obligated loan funds in the amount of 5 million dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973 according to Elwyn R. Morrow, local F.H.A. County Supervisor.

This loan volume finds the South Paris office leading the other 27 Farmers Home Administration offices in Maine and compared with last years work a 2 1/2 times greater volume. Morrow states that the increased work load comes from sewer and water association activity and the continued interest in Rural Housing loans.

The Farmers Home Administration annual report shows a caseload of 673 families and the following loans for the last fiscal year: 34 operating loans (farm) for $150,000; 3 farm real estate loans, $96,000; 130 rural housing loans for $1,796,000; 4 association loans for $2,933,000.

During the year Morrow states activity by farm families in using bank participation credit along with Farmers Home Administration loans and during the year 47 families paid their loans in full by refinancing or selling their homes. Also during the year office hours were made available for Farmers Home Administration applicants at the Maine Employment Security Commission in Rumbold.

Mr. Morrow advises in looking ahead to the new year that funds are available with bank participation for farm loans and that funds are available for rural people living in towns of less than 10,000 population for purchasing homes, repairing them and for building new homes. Also to help the house building loans the Farmers Home Administration has a conditional commitment program for local contractors.

If anyone is interested in discussing the Farmers Home Administration program they may contact Supervisor Morrow and Walter Trundy at their office in South Paris on Mondays from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. or at the Maine Employment Security Commission Office on Congress Street in Rumbold on Thursdays from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 noon.

cones. The State Nursery, which grows approximately 3,000,000 seed lings each year for planting on abandoned Maine farmlands, utilizes the seed from the cones for their program.

White spruce cones generally ripen in late August and can be picked until the cones open, usually in late September. Norway spruce and red pine cones can be picked anytime during the fall. In past years many Maine individuals have picked cones for the State Nursery. The cones can be picked from freshly cut tree tops lying on the ground on logging operations or trees can be climbed and the cones removed.

The prices per bushel being paid during 1973 are as follows: red or Norway pine, $15; Norway spruce, $2; white spruce, $5. Prospective cone pickers should contact their local Maine Forestry Department Service Forester who will inspect the cones before picking. All cones must be ripe, unopened cones. The Nursery is especially in need of red pine cones as at the present time commercial seed houses throughout the United States have none in stock.
This accounts for the increased price being offered for red pine cones.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the local state service forester or the Maine Forestry Department, Augusta, Maine.

NORTH PARIS

Wilma Pierce, Corres.

Arthur Allen observed his birthday, Saturday, Aug. 11. He was 90 years young. He had many cards, callers and gifts. He is house-bound,
so he enjoyed his many callers.

Mrs. Agnes Coffin and her mother, Mrs. Cora B. Millett of Milton called on the Barretts Sunday. Mrs.
Millett will observe her 99th birthday Sept. 5. She gets around with a cane. Knits and crochets some and has her favorite TV programs.

People turned out in great style for the old home days and parade and supper at West Paris, Aug. 11.
It seemed good to see a good parade after a few years absence. We hope they made a bit of money. The weather was hot and then some. After the parade the Norway-Paris Comets entertained the patients at Ledgeview nursing home. The Comets are a fine bunch of boys and girls.

A benefit supper will be held at West Paris Grange Hall on Aug. 24 for James Abbott and Robert Coffin, our road commissioner of West Paris. Let's give them our support for they need it. Jim is in Waterville Hospital and Bob at Maine Medical, Portland.

Jeffrey Coffin, West Paris, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his uncle, "Rock" Lawrence, while his Aunt Doris was at New Brunswick, Canada.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. —
August seems like a time for all things. The seeds of last spring are now fruit. Tomatoes are ripening and there is corn; a favorite of most people, and surely of that animal, the racoon. What waste he can bring to a garden in a single night.

Along the road sides a few impatient asters have shown up, over the pasture fence the thistle is sweet-scented with a purple-pink head. Yards and gardens are flaming with phlox.

Weeds, the renegades of the farmer and the gardener, are abundant everywhere. We find the wild mustard, fleabane, pigweed and purslane. There are scores of others which man has no use for but Nature does, using them for winter birds, bees, or butterflies.

Goldenrod has been in bloom for some time, and the milkweed's sweetness is noticed. And this shows that the growing things have their own schedules. They do not depend upon the calendar as we do. We are always measuring time.

The haste of the green world is gone. No longer do we hear the frog chorus, just now and then the slow roll of grand-daddy frog.

Ants are so busy; marching, marching while we listen to the shrill drone of the cicada.

Weather hasn't favored hiking these last few weeks but between showers and the heat we have taken a few.

One day we visited Lost River in New Hampshire and went through the caves. These glacial carved places reminded us so much of our Ice Caves and Pot Holes which so few know. Many ask for the way but I'm sure few ever find the real caves beneath the earth. To many hikers there is only a confusion of angular boulders, an immensity of stones twisted by time, broken by frost into extraordinary confections. But enter a long narrow canyon of one and there are sides going straight up fifty feet or more. Many caves are totally dark so one MUST carry a flash light. There are many chambers some descending, some on level, and one feels the cool damp air coming from the crevices. Off the main chambers lead shafts into which one may enter by crawling. These might entice the adventurer but what about the porcupine that perhaps is there? At the end of one cave there is a drop, which goes down, down where one can never see what lies at the bottom.

The day I went was on August 23 and we found enough snow in places to make snow balls. Although I enjoyed that trip, many years ago, with a good guide, I never want to enter them again. They are too cold, silent, damp and forbidding; I feel a sense of claustrophobia and want no part again of this phenomenon created probably when the Ice Age covered New England.

Lost River with its guided tours and convenient stairways has much to offer but is more open than the Ice Caves.

We have made a return trip to Frye River, climbed Albany Mountain and taken a beautiful trail which followed Wild River about which I may write at another time.

Meantime the August moon will be with us; full this week lighting the green hills. The August nights are bringing out the "wing-scratchers" to pipe their tunes and make the nights vibrate with sound. If your ears are elfin sharp, you can hear the music, soft, like a harp—"Zee-ee-zee-ee-zee-ee". Then there is the katy-did or cricket that sings from field and thicket.

Summer it still is but sunrise comes later and the dusk of evening creeps down the hills earlier to remind us that August, too, is seeping away.

My brother brought me a lily on Friday which he had taken from his garden. To start with I'm sure it was a Day Lily. It is tawny-orange, faces upward, has no spots, and has a leafless stem. The long sword-like leaves grown in a clump at the base of the plant. There are clusters of long buds at the top of the stem, and each opens for one day only and then fades as another bud opens.

Five long stamens and a pistil protrude from the throat of the funnel-shaped flower. The strange part is that at first when it grew it had one whorl around with six petals, last year it had a double whorl and this year the one which he brought had three whorls and one other opened with four whorls. I wonder if this is unusual?

Tonda Mills, Shapleigh, has been visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis, for a week and is now with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt and Danny, Windsor, spent Sunday with the Holt family at the farm.

Jackie Cotton entertained the neighborhood girls on Friday at a birthday party for her daughter, Lisa.

Maureen Millett is on a trip to St. Stephens, New Brunswick, with Mrs. Doris Lawrence to visit relatives.

Sgt. and Mr. Wayne Hakala, Westover Air Force Base, were week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hakala.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Oldham, West Paris, and Dr. and Mrs. Sherwin and David, Rumford, were Sunday afternoon visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Millett's.

UPTON
— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —
A large branch fell across the power line near the Douglass home evening while they were out. The Public Service truck arrived about midnight and restored electricity. Saturday relatives and friends helped to saw and pile the wood and clean up the debris.

A crew headed by Ed and Mari-ann Brennan painted one side of the barn Saturday. An attempt was made to paint the belfry but the water was unable to get there with the available equipment.

About 50 people attended the service and coffee hour Saturday evening. Prior information about this service was, surprisingly, incorrect though it came from a source using authentic. It proves that anything can be mistaken once in a while. The telephone must have strengthened the wires because my home was still in operation after being blasted out. I may apologize when I get through laughing but one of my long-time mottoes is "Don't sweat the small stuff."

Richard and Eleanor LeComte are retired and will be moving to their Upton home very soon. Ken is conducting a training course for ambulance attendants which will last into November.

Ken culverts and repair work on the street began this week. The road was rendered passable after being without earlier in the summer. It has been very rough and narrow in places because of deep holes.

Richard LeComte has given out building permits since he took the job as building inspector last year. Several of these camps or buildings are in advanced stages of construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mitchell were in camp this week for the first time since early summer. Margaret

NORTHWEST BETHEL

— Mrs. Louise B. Chapman, Corres. —

Have you ever wanted to take a really warm day, bottle it up and save it for a really cold day in the middle of winter? Would you do it if you could? For some reason as soon as the really warm weather is gone it's forgotten—same with the really cold. Really! These days are enjoyable for the summertime, just as the cold days are, in their way, enjoyable for the winter time—so enjoy them—with someone you love. The blackberries are coming out—I only hope I can beat my fine feathered friends to them this year—nothing like home-made blackberry pie! Everywhere you go now, the sweet smell of freshly mown hay is in the air—really makes you glad you live in the country.

Debbie Stearns is home for the summer from Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy, Mass., and has employment at Newton-Tebbetts in West Bethel.
